Are you looking for just the right tool to help people visualize your research, or help your students map out and connect the concepts they are learning?

Are you having difficulty sorting through the options for designing infographics, video presentations, mind maps, timelines and blogs, and for enabling interactivity with your students or other audiences?

To help you navigate this universe, the Apps and Appetizers open house will feature a wide range of tools, plus faculty, staff and students with expertise using those tools, and examples of what they have created.

Register to attend and/or to demo a tool at:

http://researchcommunications.ucsd.edu

Friday, January 26, 1-4pm Open House
Center for Engaged Teaching in the Literature Building, room 210

A partnership of the UCSD Research Communications Program; Teaching and Learning Commons; Center for Engaged Teaching; and Education Technology Services.