

Mathematics and Music

Communicating Complexity and Beauty

Bar-Ilan University's Louis Rowen, on cello, and UC San Diego's Dan Rogalski, on piano, will perform Ludwig van Beethoven's Sonata for Cello and Piano in D Major, Opus 102 No. 2. To introduce the performance, Rowen and Rogalski, both professors of mathematics, will discuss the synergies between mathematics and music with Miller Puckette, a professor in UC San Diego's Department of Music with a Ph.D. in mathematics.

Thursday, March 15, 5-7pm

Conrad Prebys Music Center, room 264

Free but space is limited.
